

Sponsored by the law office of Richard M. Lester ACCIDENT?
Call 24 hours 1/800-531-2424 Visit us on the web: www.aimncom.com ing In York

VIDSON WILL KEEP ITS MOTOR-is in York, Pennsylvania, and move forward ing plans there. Harley's board also ratified a r labor agreement with company employees at ctured York operation will enable the plant to and sustainable for the future, and the new it is critical to making that happen," said Keith dent and chief executive officer of Harleyrk operation will be consolidated under one ed on the core areas of motorcycle assembly, on, and paint. Its workforce will be smaller and more flexible, corresponding to the scale and scope of the operations.

When fully up and running in 2012, the restructuring is expected to generate about $100 million in annual operating savings compared to the current structure.

SuperMax Loses Phil Ross

SUPERMAX LOST ITS BELOVED

master of the modern belt drive Phil Ross after a bout with lung cancer. Phil passed in December 2009 after battling the disease for several months. A memorial service attended by Phil's family and friends was held in Cottonwood, Arizona, in early January. "He had so many friends, they could not be counted," his wife, Vyvyan, stated in an e-mail to AIM. Phil Ross played an instrumental role in developing polyurethane belt drives and pulleys and is the man behind the pulley overlays currently offered by SuperMax.
"We will continue on with his work, doing the overlay pulleys and keeping his memory alive," said Vyvyan.

Lehman Trikes Receives ISO Cert

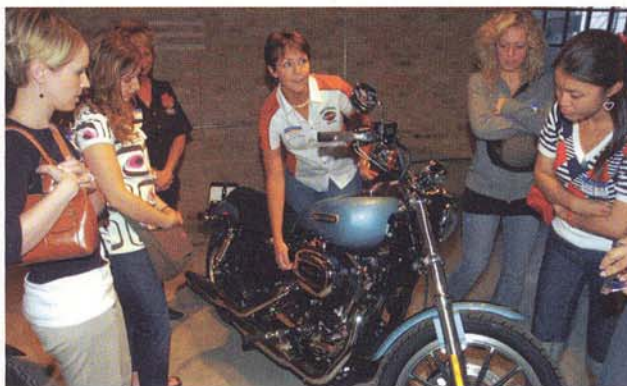

Leader of the Three World

THE TWO-TO-THREE WHEEL BIKE conversion company has earned ISO 9001:2008 certification, which consists of a series of internationally accepted standards that provide a consistent foundation for product and service quality. "While we have always striven to deliver an exceptional product, we chose to pursue this certification to provide testament to the quality and reliability of our products and our dedication to customer satisfaction," said Ken Hines, president and CEO of Lehman Trikes. Info: www.LehmanTrikes.com.

ting Women-Only Garage Parties

HAS DECLARED
Garage Party
it the month,
ree parties that ial environment
n about the sport s well as meet are interested in will offer a review
ycle controls,
a motorcycle's ics, and how to
Garage Party

event attendees will be organized into small groups, getting their first taste of the camaraderie that goes along with riding. Between seminars, women will have the chance to interact with each other, as well as hear from women who are already living their motorcycle dreams. For more information about Garage Party events or to find an event in your area, visit www.Harley-Davidson.com/GarageParty.