

Mark Blackwell promoted

POLARIS Industries has appointed Victory Motorcycles' VP Mark Blackwell to a new post of VP Motorcycles in announcing the creation of a new On-Road Vehicle Division to be headed by former Sales and Corporate Marketing VP Mike Jonikas. The new division appears to flag Polaris' intention to add to its Victory Motorcycles operations in a bid to take the company into other on-road vehicle and motorcycle markets. "Victory Motorcycles, with its strong brand recognition and customer loyalty, will be one of the major components of the new On-Road Vehicle Division that we're announcing" said Polaris CEO Scott Wine. Jonikas will oversee the future strategic direction of Victory, with Blackwell's expanded brief expected to include execution of an as yet to be confirmed plan to enter additional two-wheel markets. It is speculated that in the fullness of time these could include additional touring offerings and street bikes with a possible launch into the growing dual-sport sector also believed to be a prospect that is under consideration.

A possible direction for Polaris that is fuelled by the demise of its planned partnership with KTM of three years ago, and the increasing control being exerted over the Austrian manufacturer by Indian giant and world's fourth largest motorcycle manufacturer Bajaj Auto, which now owns nearly 32 percent of KTM stock.

Steve Menneto will aim to fill Blackwell's shoes, reporting as General Manager of Victory Motorcycles as Polaris also targets additional growth of its existing range and launches of further new Victory models.

World Land Speed Record holder hosts LA Calendar Show

LESLIE Porterfield, FIM Motorcycle Land Speed Record holder, has been announced as the hostess for the 18th Annual Los Angeles Calendar Motorcycle Show over the weekend of July 18-19th 2009 at the Queen Mary Park, Long Beach, California.

Porterfield, who has set Bonneville SCTA, AMA and FIM World Records, is the first woman to earn inclusion into the prestigious Bonneville 200 MPH Club on a conventional motorcycle. The AMA recognized her outstanding achievements and awarded her with their 2008 'Female Rider of the Year' award.

In serving as official hostess of the show, Porterfield will be handling all the show's weekend stage announcements and presentations including introducing the FastDates.com Calendar Bike Building Seminars, along with the show's Calendar Girl music festival performers. She will also host the Calendar Bike Building Championship awards presentation ceremonies at the close of the show on Sunday afternoon.

"I am very honored to have Leslie representing the LA Calendar Motorcycle Show this year," said producer Jim Gianatsis. "Leslie exemplifies everything we want to promote in the sport with the show. She is a dedicated motorcycle enthusiast, an incredibly determined professional racer, successful motorcycle dealership owner, and a beautiful role model."

Lehman partners with trailer company

ROAD Dog Trailers is the company which Lehman Trikes has partnered with to launch a new touring trailer designed specifically for use with its trike conversions. The aerodynamically designed, low and wide, fiberglass 'Drifter' trailer is said to offer 23 cubic feet of storage and benefits from Road Dog's 'Pivot Point Torsion Suspension'. Factory options on the Drifter include color-match factory paint, aluminum wheels, and LED lighting.

"We are very excited to partner with Road Dog Trailers and offer this excellent product," said Ken Hines, Executive Vice President of Lehman Trikes, "we feel that the Drifter will be an integral part of the touring experience for our customers and a value-added product for our dealer network."
